Mayer/Reed is an award winning, Portland, Oregon-based design studio providing landscape architecture, urban design, visual communications, and product design services for sustainable environments in which people live, work and play. The firm's work in creating places for human activity explores the social, cultural, ecological and historic contexts that shape these environments.

Mayer/Reed is seeking an experienced designer to join our Visual Communications group to design and manage a diverse range of experiential projects including placemaking, signage, wayfinding, and branded environments. The position requires a balance of conceptual design rigor with fabrication and materials knowledge. We are looking for a well-rounded individual who has good organizational, verbal and written communication skills with the ability to contribute in a team environment. The position will be responsible for creating comprehensive signage packages from programming through production of detailed construction drawings, including managing project budget, staff and client communication.

Candidates should possess both 2-D and 3-D visualization skills, be proficient in Adobe Creative Suite, and Microsoft Office. A four-year degree in related design field required. Candidate must be able to accurately read and manipulate architectural plans and should have a working knowledge of ADA guidelines and code signage. Project management experience and an interest in how people experience and navigate the built environment is required.

Salary is commensurate with the level of experience. A comprehensive benefits package is offered to full time employees. Our studio is in downtown Portland with access to bike and transit routes. Staff enjoys on-site workout, bike and shower facilities, and education and social events. Visit www.mayerreed.com to learn more about our work and office culture.
